The three tailors' club held another meeting hast evening, but did nothing in the matter of selecting candidates for the city council

So sayp Mr. L. S. Hills, and Mr. L. S. Hills was there.

Mr. Hills was at the club when the question was asked him: "Did your committee at its meeting tonight select any candidates for the city council?"

His answer was brief, succinct and emphatic. It consisted of exactly three words, which came from his lips with the velocity of peliets from a shotgun, and were fired as he was in the act of turning on his heel to return to the apartment from whence he came. They were: "We did not."

Then Mr. Hills faded away like a summer dream and was lost in a haze of perfects smoke which lingered in the or periecto smoke which ingered in the carpeted corridor.

Although no formal announcements have been made, it is understood the committee has agreed on some names for the council, and that among these are the First and Fourth precinct, where five gentlemen have been agreed upon. The first two are from the First precinct, and are Elias A. Smith and Adam Spelrs. The first is not a member of the Descret National banking corporation, but he has another bank in the same room, and is right handy to all the sessions. Whether he will accept or not remains to be seen.

all the sessions. Whether he will accept or not remains to be seen.

In the Fourth the following slate has been agreed upon, although it is not certain that all the gentlemen who have been selected will accept the honor which will be thrust upon them.

have been selected will accept the honor which will be thrust upon them George Romney, sr., Robert Patrick and Colonel F. A. Grant. It was thought at one time that no member of the present council would be selected, but the fact that Mr. Romney took a vacation to Europe was sufficient to enable him to pass muster. It is believed if reveral members of the council would go to Sampete for 24 or 48 hours so it could be said they were out of the city when such and such a thing was done, they would stand a good chance of getting there.

The committee is taking its time on the matter of selections for the council and according to the statements of one who has attended the sessions, the members are "sifting" the names of possibilities a great deal. Indeed, it is asserted that the "sifter" is worn out with the rush of work, and some names slip through the large holes which are not wanted and then the work has to be done all over again. But it is expected the committee will get there in time to make announcements this week, so the people will know who they have to beat and when the other conventions meet.

His candidacy seemed to strike the members of the party generally, and he had quite a number of supporters on the four corners.

The ticket hust mimed, however, will compare favorably with the non-partisan selections made up to date.

At the ourset it was riated that the non-partisan club would select its candidates without regard for party afflications of the past and religious connection. Up to date the apportionment has been three Democrats, three Republicans. There have been selected three Gentiles and three members of the church. General Cannon stated last right that pointes nor religion had cut no figure up to date, and this being so, the chib is to be congratulated upon the happy results of its deliverations.

A COMMENDABLE ENTERPRISE

That Has Given to Salt Lake City a New Metropolitan Feature.

The chief factors of comfort and health are worthy—when they are worthy—thy—of the most distinguished consideration. What are these factors as applied to the matter of food and its service? And where in our city can one find the same thoroughly exemplified? Certainly nowhere if not at the new Templeton cafe, where the latest dictums of sciontific hygiene are followed in the details pertaining to cooking and service, and where, so far as affording pleasure to the eye is concerned, there is nothing that could possibly offend the most artistic susceptibility. Every taste of fancy of the traveling man and touries can be gratified and peace and rest obtained at the new Templeton hotel, which is now conducted on the European plan. Rooms and cafe furnished with a taste approaching to elegance and appointed throughout with a view to giving the greatest possible comfort.
